

DISEASE:
Multiple paragangliomas associated with polycythemia

NAME:	Multiple paragangliomas associated with polycythemia
DESCRIPTION:	A rare, endocrine disease characterized by early onset of polycythemia, and later occurring multiple paragangliomas. Clinical presentation includes hypertension, headaches, fatigue, nausea, anxiety, and high concentration of red blood cells, leading to increased risk of stroke and pulmonary thromboembolism.
ORPHACODE:	324299
SYNOMYS:	Multiple paragangliomas associated with erythrocytosis Paraganglioma-somatostatinoma-polycythemia syndrome
XREF(S):	Orphanet
ANALYTE(S):	EPAS1
CREATED:	13 May 2019 - 01:02
CHANGED:	22 Jun 2023 - 16:14

Source URL: <http://gentest.healthdata.be/disease/1703>

RELATED CONTENT

Related Genetic Tests

- Paraganglioma and pheochromocytoma \(gene panel\)

Related Laboratories

- Centre de Génétique Médicale UCL

Related Analytes

- endothelial PAS domain protein 1

Related Gene Panels

- Paraganglioma and pheochromocytoma \(29 genes\) - UCL

Source URL: <http://gentest.healthdata.be/disease/1703>