
DISEASE:
Epidermolysis bullosa simplex due to exophilin 5 deficiency

NAME:	Epidermolysis bullosa simplex due to exophilin 5 deficiency
DESCRIPTION:	A rare, inherited, epidermolysis bullosa simplex characterized by mild, generalized trauma-induced scale crusts and intermittent blistering, sometimes combined with erosions, recovering with slight scarring and post-inflammatory hyperpigmentation. Clinical symptoms improve with age.
ORPHACODE:	412189
SYNONYMS:	EBS due to exophilin 5 deficiency
XREF(S):	Orphanet OMIM ICD-10
ANALYTE(S):	EXPH5
CREATED:	13 May 2019 - 01:02
CHANGED:	22 Jun 2023 - 16:14

RELATED CONTENT

Related Genetic Tests

- Epidermolysis bullosa \(gene panel\)

Related Laboratories

- Centrum Menselijke Erfelijkheid - KUL

Related Analytes

- exophilin 5

Related Gene Panels

- Epidermolysis bullosa and bladder diseases \(60 genes\) - KUL

Source URL: <http://gentest.healthdata.be/disease/2503>