
DISEASE:
Complete androgen insensitivity syndrome

NAME:	Complete androgen insensitivity syndrome
DESCRIPTION:	Complete androgen insensitivity syndrome (CAIS) is a form of androgen insensitivity syndrome (AIS; see this term), a disorder of sex development (DSD), characterized by the presence of female external genitalia in a 46,XY individual with normal testis development but undescended testes and unresponsiveness to age-appropriate levels of androgens.
ORPHACODE:	99429
SYNONYMS:	CAIS Complete androgen resistance syndrome
XREF(S):	Orphanet OMIM ICD-10
ANALYTE(S):	AR
CREATED:	13 May 2019 - 01:02
CHANGED:	22 Jun 2023 - 16:14

Source URL: <http://gentest.healthdata.be/index.php/index.php/disease/3538>

RELATED CONTENT

Related Genetic Tests

- Androgen insensitivity \(AR gene\)

Related Laboratories

- Centrum Medische Genetica - UZ Brussel VUB

Related Analytes

- androgen receptor

Source URL: <http://gentest.healthdata.be/index.php/index.php/disease/3538>